Chief Edgar Macleod,
President, Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police

Police Information and Statistics (POLIS) Committee
Annual Report 2003/04

Message/Executive Summary:

The POLIS Committee has extensive representation from police agencies across Canada. It enjoys an excellent working relationship with the Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics (CCJS). Its work often proceeds slowly as changes to data gathering and reporting have long-reaching impacts. Its value derives from the opportunity to develop, improve and deliver information to the Canadian public and police to better understand our environment with respect to offending, victimization and policing and to thereby facilitate strategic decision making and policy development.

Committee Mandate/Objectives:

Vision:

Quality data for quality policing

Mission:

POLIS supports progressive change in policing in partnership with the Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics (CCJS) and other partners, through the development and communication of meaningful public safety information.

Mandate/Objectives:

- Represent the police community in ensuring that emerging police issues, priorities and concerns are addressed by CCJS surveys and products;
- Facilitate the development of partnerships among governments and criminal justice agencies to further the integration of justice information systems;
- Collaborate with CCJS and police organizations in the development of standard police performance indicators;
