Re: The False Alarm Bylaw

RECOMMENDATION

Receive and file.

CONCLUSION

The joint effort by the Alarm Co-ordinator and alarm industry in the education of alarm users remains the best approach to reducing false alarms. The Alarm Co-ordinator's contact with new alarm users, the distribution of alarm brochures and the utilization of media, such as the Regina Police Service website, assists with alarm awareness and is assisting with the prevention of false alarms.

From 2011 to 2012, there was a 1.3% increase in the number of permits. Alarm calls account for 10.7% of the total calls for service which is 1.2% lower than 2011. The percentage of false alarms remains the same as last year – 98.6% of the total alarm calls for service were false. In 2012, 50.3% of all alarm calls were cancelled which is slightly lower than 2011. Lastly, there were nine more billable events in 2012 than in 2011. There has been an average of 679 billable events per year between 2008 and 2012.

BACKGROUND

The False Alarm Bylaw was passed by City Council on March 8, 2004, and implemented June 1, 2004.

The False Alarm Bylaw contains a mandatory registration clause for alarmed premises, a financial penalty for the third and fourth false alarm, and a suspension of police response. A caution notice is served after a premise has two false alarms and a $75 penalty is assessed after the third and fourth alarm. The fourth alarm within a 365-day period also causes a suspension of police response to subsequent alarms; however, police are always dispatched to panic or distress alarms and incidents involving criminal activity.

DISCUSSION

False Alarm Bylaw information is available on the Regina Police Service website. The Crime Prevention Tips section provides Bylaw details, the impact of false alarms on the Police Service, and access to the alarm site registration. The site also provides a link to e-mail questions or comments to the Alarm Co-ordinator.

At the end of 2012 there were 28,297 registered permits in the City of Regina. In 2012 there were 3,458 alarm permit applications received which represent an average of nine per day.

In 2012, new alarm sites increased by 1.3% over 2011.¹ This number is lower than reported new sites in 2011. Permits for 3,458 alarm sites were issued; however, only 357 were for new alarm sites. The remaining 3,101 represent new permit numbers assigned to existing alarm sites because of a change in ownership or monitoring company.

Year	Permits	New Sites	% change in permits
2008	25,021	1,009	4.0%
2009	26,605	1,584	6.0%
2010	27,371	766	2.8%
2011	27,940	569	2.0%
2012	28,297	357	1.3%

In 2012, there were 6,621 alarm calls for service in Regina. Of the total alarm calls for service in 2012, 6,527 were false alarms compared to 7,444 false alarms in 2011. In 2012, 98.6% of alarm calls for service were false alarms.

Year	Alarm Requests for Dispatch	Real Alarms	Total False Alarms	Proportion of all alarms that were false	Calls for Service ²	Proportion of total calls that were alarms
2008	9,078	172	8,906	98.1%	62,314	14.6%
2009	8,789	119	8,670	98.6%	61,462	14.3%
2010	8,472	128	8,344	98.5%	62,587	13.5%
2011	7,561	117	7,444	98.5 %	63,616	11.9%
2012	6,621	94	6,527	98.6%	61,894	10.7%

Cancelled dispatch request statistics have been collected since 2006. A dispatch request call for service is cancelled by the alarm company when they determine police are not required. Of all dispatch requests received in 2012, 50.3% were cancelled. The number of cancelled dispatch requests remains constant.

Year	Dispatch Requests	Cancelled Dispatch Requests	Cancelled Dispatch Requests
2008	9,078	4,469	49.2%
2009	8,789	3,994	45.4%
2010	8,472	4,395	51.9%
2011	7,561	3,893	51.5%
2012	6,621	3,328	50.3%

¹ A "new site" refers to a new address that did not have an alarm in the past.

² There was change in business practices in May 2010 to no longer include a 10-10 call for service. A 10-10 call for service is a call initiated by a police officer to indicate they are in emergency status, which does not reflect calls for service received from the public.

In 2012, 659 alarm calls for service resulted in billing charges under the Bylaw. The following chart represents the number of billable events annually for 2008 to 2012.

Year	Billable Events
2008	681
2009	652
2010	755
2011	650
2012	659

Your Message: I would like to pass along a compliment. On Friday morning (February 15) around 8:00 a.m. I was involved in a vehicle collision at the corner of Halifax Street and Victoria Avenue. Two young officers arrived in separate cars, one male and one female. Both very professional, knowledgeable, helpful, and kind. I don't know their names. I was very impressed. Thanks again.

Your Message: I was unfortunate enough to have my car stall at the intersection of Gordon (heading east) & Albert S on Thurs Feb 21 8:30 a.m. After calling CAA, I was told I would have to wait an hour for a truck. In the meantime a Regina Police officer heading west on Gordon, turned around, came to check up on me, called another officer and they both pushed my vehicle to the parking lot by Bonzini's. I had gone into the optical shop to keep warm & about 1/2 hour later the officer stopped to check my vehicle so I went out and he offered to see if he could find a tow truck that could come out sooner. He was not successful but I do have to commend him for how wonderful he was looking out for me, ensuring I was warm & safe. I do not have his name or badge number but would like to again thank him and commend him for going beyond his duty!!
