Re: The False Alarm Bylaw

---

RECOMMENDATION

Receive and file.

CONCLUSION

The joint effort by the Alarm Co-ordinator and alarm industry in the education of alarm users remains the best approach to reducing false alarms. The Alarm Co-ordinator's contact with new alarm users, the distribution of alarm brochures and the utilization of media, such as the Regina Police Service website, assists with alarm awareness and is assisting with the prevention of false alarms.

From 2012 to 2013, there was a 0.1% decrease in the number of alarm permits. Alarm calls account for 10.6% of the total calls for service which is 0.1% lower than 2012. The percentage of false alarms remains the same as last year – 98.6% of the total alarm calls for service were false. In 2013, 50.5% of all alarm calls were cancelled which is slightly higher than 2012. Lastly, there were one hundred and eleven fewer billable events in 2013 than in 2012. There has been an average of 657 billable events per year between 2008 and 2013.

BACKGROUND

The False Alarm Bylaw was passed by City Council on March 8, 2004, and implemented June 1, 2004.

The False Alarm Bylaw contains a mandatory registration clause for alarmed premises, a financial penalty for the third and fourth false alarm, and a suspension of police response. A caution notice is served after a premise has two false alarms and a $75 penalty is assessed after the third and fourth alarm. The fourth alarm within a 365-day period also causes a suspension of police response to subsequent alarms; however, police are always dispatched to panic or distress alarms and incidents involving criminal activity.

DISCUSSION

False Alarm Bylaw information is available on the Regina Police Service website. The Crime Prevention Tips section provides Bylaw details, the impact of false alarms on the Police Service, and access to the alarm site registration. The site also provides a link to e-mail questions or comments to the Alarm Co-ordinator.

At the end of 2013 there were 28,273 registered alarm permits in the City of Regina. In 2013 there were 3,791 alarm permit applications received which represent an average of ten per day.

In 2013, permits for 3,791 alarm sites were issued; however, the number of alarm sites registered as of December 31, 2013, was 24 fewer than existed as of December 31, 2012. This is because alarm companies cancelled a slightly larger number of existing alarm permits than they applied for during 2013.

Year	Permits	New Sites	% change in permits
2009	26,605	1,584	6.0%
2010	27,371	766	2.8%
2011	27,940	569	2.0%
2012	28,297	357	1.3%
2013	28,273	(24)	-0.1%

In 2013, there were 6,455 alarm calls for service in Regina. Of the total alarm calls for service in 2013, 6,362 were false alarms compared to 6,527 false alarms in 2012. In 2013, 98.6% of alarm calls for service were false alarms.

Year	Alarm Requests for Dispatch	Real Alarms	Total False Alarms	Proportion of all alarms that were false	Calls for Service <sup>1</sup>	Proportion of total calls that were alarms
2009	8,789	119	8,670	98.6%	61,462	14.3%
2010	8,472	128	8,344	98.5%	62,587	13.5%
2011	7,561	117	7,444	98.5%	63,616	11.9%
2012	6,621	94	6,527	98.6%	61,894	10.7%
2013	6,455	93	6,362	98.6%	60,942	10.6%

<sup>1</sup> There was change in business practices in May 2010 to no longer include a 10-10 call for service. A 10-10 call for service is a call initiated by a police officer to indicate they are in emergency status, which does not reflect calls for service received from the public.

Cancelled dispatch request statistics have been collected since 2006. A dispatch request call for service is cancelled by the alarm company when they determine police are not required. Of all dispatch requests received in 2013, 50.5% were cancelled. The number of cancelled dispatch requests remains relatively unchanged.

Year	Dispatch Requests	Cancelled Dispatch Requests	Cancelled Dispatch Requests
2009	8,789	3,994	45.4%
2010	8,472	4,395	51.9%
2011	7,561	3,893	51.5%
2012	6,621	3,328	50.3%
2013	6,455	3,257	50.5%

In 2013, 548 alarm calls for service resulted in a total of $45,275 in billing charges under the Bylaw. The following chart represents the number of billable events annually for 2009 to 2013.

Year	Billable Events
2009	652
2010	755
2011	650
2012	659

Dear Chief Hagen and Sgt. Puglia,

Hello and many thanks from the Credit Union Queen City Marathon!

On behalf of our volunteer board of directors, organizing committee, hundreds of race-day volunteers and thousands and thousands of participants from across Saskatchewan, Canada and the USA, please accept our heartfelt thanks for all that you do. Your involvement is a very important part of the on-going success of Saskatchewan's premiere running and walking event: the Credit Union Queen City Marathon.

The 2013 Credit Union QCM was our biggest and best race ever! You helped us host 4,764 registered participants representing 183 cities and towns in Saskatchewan, 7 provinces and territories, 14 US states and from as far away as England, Germany, Italy, New Zealand and the Netherlands. Your assistance enabled us to inform, guide, hydrate, feed, encourage, and celebrate with these folks as they reached their finish line goals.

And, in the process, your support this past year helped the Credit Union QCM provide almost $49,000 for local charities and community groups.

Registration is already underway for the 14th Annual Credit Union Queen City Marathon on Sunday, September 7th, 2014, and we anticipate yet another great year. Our relationship with you is very important and we look forward to partnering with you once again as we organize this wonderful community event.

You keep us running!

Sincerely,

Doug Russell, Volunteer Race Director
2013 Credit Union Queen City Marathon

Sgt. Puglia,

a great job with this event. Thank you for your hard-
