COMPONENT 2 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of Component 2 of the study on the Impacts of Federal-Provincial Institutional Accommodation Agreements is to provide a detailed description of programs and services offered at provincial/territorial institutions housing federal inmates transferred under an Exchange of Service Agreement. Component 2 covers all provincial/territorial jurisdictions, with the exception of Prince Edward Island.

In addition to a description of programs and services offered at provincial/territorial institutions, a sample of three federal institutions<sup>2</sup> has been included in the appendices. Although the sample has been included, the report is descriptive in nature and does not draw comparisons between federal and provincial/territorial systems.

APPROACH

Data Collection

The data for Component 2 was collected through a comprehensive survey of all provincial/territorial institutions which have housed male federal inmates or potentially could or would house male federal inmates under an Exchange of Service Agreement.

A total of 75 institutions were surveyed. The institutions were chosen from lists of past federal transfers and in consultation with provincial/territorial authorities. The following table gives a breakdown of the number of institutions surveyed by jurisdiction.

The Agreement with Prince Edward Island has not been utilized and inmate transfers are not expected to occur between CSC and PEI correctional facilities.

Jurisdiction	Number of Institutions
British Columbia	8
Alberta	13
Saskatchewan	13
Manitoba	3
Ontario	11
Quebec <sup>3</sup>	1
New Brunswick	5
Nova Scotia	11
Newfoundland	6
Yukon Territory	1
Northwest Territories	3
Total	75

The questionnaire which was sent to the institutions was divided into the following sections:

- Section 1 Institutional Information;
- Section 2 Prisoner Pay;
- Section 3 Academic Education Programs;
- Section 4 Vocational Education Programs;
- Section 5 Occupational Development Programs;
- Section 6 Personal Development Programs;
- Section 7 Social/Cultural Development Programs;
- Section 8 Recreation, Leisure and Physical Fitness Programs;

Only one completed questionnaire was provided by the Province of Quebec. However, officials indicated that the program information is applicable to all Quebec provincial institutions.

- Section 9 Other Programs and Obligations;
- Section 10 Physical and Mental Health Services; and
- Section 11 Essential Services.

Program categories were not consistently defined across jurisdictions; therefore, examples of the types of programs and services covered by each of the above categories were provided at the beginning of the section. The data reported in the appendices was also verified through a follow-up mailing to each jurisdiction, and through discussions with provincial correctional officials. Programs presented in Appendix B are shown in the categories in which they were reported.

In addition to a survey of provincial/territorial institutions, a separate questionnaire was sent to all provincial/territorial headquarters to obtain summary information on the general program philosophy, the grievance and disciplinary systems, release programs, and any programs planned for the future.

The Province of Quebec reported information on a summary basis and did not provide information on individual institutions. In addition, the Province of Manitoba did not provide information on grievance and disciplinary procedures, or on release programs.

Copies of both survey instruments are appended to the report.

Data Presentation

The report provides a summary description of the following for each jurisdiction:

- General Program Philosophy and Environment;
- Prisoner Pay Systems
- Grievance and Disciplinary Systems;
- Release Programs;
- Physical and Mental Health Services; and
- Type of Accommodation.

In addition, detailed descriptions of institutions which have housed or potentially could house federal offenders and of programs/services offered at each institution are provided as appendices.

FINDINGS

General Program Philosophy and Environment

This section provides a description of the general correctional program philosophy and environment for each of the jurisdictions covered by the study. In addition to a brief description of the program philosophy and types of programs offered, summary tables of programs offered at each institution are provided.

British Columbia

The programs offered at British Columbia institutions are generally work related. Other programs such as education and recreation are also offered during the evenings at most institutions. The work programs which were reported included: kitchen work; automotive and fibreglass shop; equipment maintenance and janitorial work; laundry; carpentry; tailor shop; and farm/garden. All inmates are encouraged to participate in work-related programs, unless unable to do so (eg. for medical or security reasons). Work programs vary according to security levels, local resources, and availability of work.

British Columbia reported no planned program introductions over the next two years.

A summary of the programs offered at institutions in British Columbia is found on the following pages.

Not all jurisdictions reported on their general program philosophy.

Alberta

Alberta correctional authorities reported that their program philosophy is based on the "opportunities model where the custodial environment encourages offenders to assume responsibility for their rehabilitation". At the same time, prisoners are provided with the opportunity to improve their educational, vocational, and social skills.

A wide variety of programs (ie. educational, vocational, occupational, personal development) are offered at the Alberta institutions which house male federal offenders.

The programs offered at Alberta institutions are geared towards early reintegration of offenders into the community, and many of the programs are designed as "precursors to community programs to be continued by the offender upon release".

A number of program introductions are planned by Alberta correctional authorities over the next two years, including a living skills program and a carpentry program at the St. Paul Correctional Centre, Native programs at all institutions, and the contracting of correctional services to the Blood Reserve (the Kainai Project).

The grids on the following pages provide a summary of the programs available at institutions in Alberta.

Saskatchewan

The program environment in Saskatchewan is driven by a number of mission goals and objectives. Specific goals related to programs include:

- ongoing involvement by the community to promote continued social membership;
- contact with the offender's home community to promote active participation by offenders and their families;
- emphasis on the responsibility of offenders to provide restitution to victims or payment of debt to society;
- emphasis on work programs as a means of social integration; and
- public participation to enhance public awareness, understanding and support of programs and activities.

Academic education, work related programs, and personal development programs (mostly substance abuse groups and programs) are offered at all institutions housing federal offenders transferred under the ESA. Vocational education is limited to the Saskatoon Correctional Institution. Native programs are also offered at a number of institutions.

Program planning is done by each institution and new program introductions were not reported on an aggregate basis.

The programs offered at institutions in Saskatchewan are summarized on the following pages.

Quebec

The program environment in Quebec correctional facilities is based on a number of key goals:

- to make the prisoners more socially responsible;
- to provide an environment in which prisoners can improve their skills through apprenticeship and other training; and
- to provide programs which extend beyond the prisoner's incarceration into the community and which promote community involvement.

Quebec correctional authorities reported that a standard set of programs is offered at all institutions. In addition to basic and secondary education programs, a limited number of vocational education programs are offered. The only social or personal development program offered is Human Relations.

Quebec indicated that a number of program introductions are planned over the next two years, including psychiatric treatment, support for persons with conjugal violence problems, and a drug addiction program.

The table on the following page provides a summary of programs offered at Quebec institutions.5

The Province of Quebec responded to the survey by indicating that programs are available at all institutions.

New Brunswick

The general program objective in New Brunswick, as described by correctional authorities, is "to provide program opportunities to the offenders, with due consideration to the public safety, that may assist in successful reintegration". The programs are voluntary but accessible to prisoners.

Academic education, substance abuse and recreation programs are offered to offenders at most institutions; however, only a limited number of vocational and work related programs are available.

The following table summarizes the institutional programs offered by the Province of New Brunswick.

Nova Scotia

The program objective in Nova Scotia is "to contribute to the maintenance of a just, peaceful and safe society by providing safe custody, direction and control for the accused or the convicted offender; administering the disposition of the courts and encouragement of offenders to participate in programs that will assist in their reintegration into society".

Academic education programs are offered at most institutions, along with extensive substance abuse and volunteer community programming. A limited number of vocational education and work related programs are offered.

Nova Scotia correctional authorities are planning to either contract or purchase a residential accommodation over the next two years.

The programs offered in Nova Scotia institutions are summarized in the following table.

Newfoundland

Newfoundland correctional authorities indicated that they seek to fulfil their mandate of contributing to the achievement of a safe, just and humane society, by adhering to a number of principles related to justice and correctional service. The following principles are related specifically to programming:

- by encouraging offenders to adopt acceptable behaviour patterns and to participate in education, training, social development and work experiences designed to assist them to become law-abiding citizens;
- by encouraging offenders to prepare for eventual release and successful reintegration in society through the provision of a wide range of program opportunities responsive to their individual needs; and
- by providing a safe and healthful environment to incarcerated offenders which is conducive to their personal reformation, and by assisting offenders in the community to obtain or provide for themselves the basic services available to all members of society.

Programming in Newfoundland varies by institution. Academic education programs are offered to offenders at most institutions. However, vocational education programs are only offered at the Labrador and West Coast Correctional Centres. Extensive vocational education programming is available at the West Coast Correction through access to the local community college. Job search and volunteer community services are also offered at most institutions.

No planned program introductions were reported for the next two years.

The programs offered in Newfoundland are summarized in the following table.

Yukon Territory

Specific program goals<sup>6</sup> identified by Yukon correctional authorities were:

- to provide the inmate with the opportunities to change his/her behaviour, prepare himself/herself for release, and successful adjustment in the community; and
- to encourage and develop community-based work programs.

While academic and personal development programs are offered at the Whitehorse Correctional Centre, the correctional authorities did not list any vocational or work related programs as being offered.

No program introductions are planned over the next two years.

The following table shows the programs offered at the White Horse Correctional Centre.

Only those goals directly related to programming are listed. Other correctional goals or Yukon authorities are not shown in the report.

A key program objective in the Northwest Territories is the recognition of the rights of inmates, particularly indigenous inmates such as Dene, Métis, and Inuit. Programs concentrate primarily on basic education and work.

While vocational education programs are limited, several introductions (ie. shop, small engine mechanics, trapping, settlement maintenance, and northern construction techniques) are planned over the next two years.

Grievance and Disciplinary Systems

A number of questions were asked in the questionnaire concerning the grievance and disciplinary systems in each jurisdiction. Specifically, the questions raised were:

- Are the grievance and disciplinary systems contained inhouse or are they external to the institutions?
- Is there an ombudsman to which prisoners can appeal?
- Are prisoners informed of the disciplinary and grievance systems and how are they informed?

In most jurisdictions, prisoners have final right of appeal to the Head of Corrections or another authority external to the institution under the grievance and disciplinary system. All of the provinces indicated that an ombudsman is accessible to inmates either by telephone, by mail or through in-person visits. The two territories do not have ombudsman for prisoner grievance and disciplinary actions.

Prisoners have the right to appeal grievance or disciplinary decisions at any time in most jurisdictions, and prisoners are generally informed by both written and verbal communication.

The table on the following pages provides a summary of the grievance and disciplinary procedures in each jurisdiction.

Jurisdiction	In house or External Redress	Ombudsman	Means of Appeal	Timing of Appeal	How informed of Procedures	Assistance Provided ?

Physical and Mental Health Services

All jurisdictions reported that paid medical services are offered to prisoners at their institutions and, with the exception of camps and some smaller institutions, all offered prisoners access to mental health services.

The extent to which mental health services are offered at the institutions was an issue which was raised during the in-depth staff interviews. For example, both provincial prisoners and federal inmates placed in institutions in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, and the Northwest Territories who require extensive psychiatric treatment are usually transferred to the Regional Psychiatric Centre. For some inmates, the National Parole Board also requires a psychiatric assessment at the Regional Psychiatric Centre prior to the inmate's release.

Type of Accommodation

Institutions in all jurisdictions reported a combination of shared and single accommodation.
